We cannot doubt this, we can't possibly escape the conviction of its truth. Unquestionably the resolve is formed; and, in pursuance of it, and as the apecdicat means of carrying it into execution, we are assured that the Legislature which meets at Frankfort to day will be pressed from a thousand quarters and by endless appliances to call a State Convention at once. This assurance is clearly well-founded. The Disunionists in and around the Legislature will very certainly make their first and chief fight on this point; if defeated, they may then fall back on some accordance represents to be in a starving condition.
